ABOUT ME

Hi! I'm Himu. I'm good at performing creative tasks, such as storytelling and creating new things. One of my core strengths is visualization, which is a common natural ability among humans. I solve problems or complex situations more effectively with a theoretical approach. I perform better with flexibility and am good at both working with a team and working alone. I'm also good at management and organizing things, which I consider one of my core strengths.
